Want Want China states that it “allows no employment discrimination... [and] stands against engaging any child under 16 years old and forced labour.”

Steps the company could take to address forced labor risks in its supply chains include

- disclosing its supplier code of conduct that requires suppliers to uphold the ILO core labor conventions and integrating these standards into supplier contracts;
- disclosing internal responsibility and board oversight for implementing its supplier code of conduct; and
- assessing forced labor risks in its supply chains and disclosing risks identified.
